

Sean Yixiang Wang

www.seanwang.page

1715 15th St NW, Apt 303
Washington, DC 20009

sean.wang.econ@gmail.com
(562) 489 - 4639

PROFESSIONAL POSITIONS	Center for Economic Studies, U.S. Census Bureau Economist	2022 - Present
EDUCATION	Massachusetts Institute of Technology Ph.D. in Economics Dissertation: "Essays on Employment and Human Capital" Committee: Daron Acemoglu, David Autor, John Van Reenen Field exams in labor economics and industrial organization Washington University in St. Louis A.B. in Economics and Physics, summa cum laude Minor in Mathematics Affiliate student at University College London, Fall 2012	2016 - 2022 2010 - 2014
WORKING PAPERS	"What Is the Price for Opportunity? The Effects of Employer Learning on Worker Promotions and Turnover." 2021. "Unionization, Employer Opposition, and Establishment Closure" with Samuel Young. 2021.
PAPERS IN PROGRESS	"Firm Decentralization and Long-Run Growth" with Daron Acemoglu, Scott Ohlmacher, and John Van Reenen. "Competition and School Quality: Evidence from Centralized Assignment."
OTHER PAPERS	"T-Mobile in 2013: The Un-Carrier" with John Beshears, Francesca Gino, and Jonathan Lee. Harvard Business School Case , 916-043, February 2016.
TEACHING EXPERIENCE	At MIT (as teaching assistant): Psychology and Economics (14.13) Platform Strategy (15.S57, MBA mini-course)	2022 2021
PROFESSIONAL ACTIVITIES	Presentations: 2022: U.S. Census Bureau Pre-2022: MIT Labor/Public Seminar, MIT Labor Lunch, MIT Organization Economics Lunch, U.S. Census Bureau Refereeing: Journal of Economics & Management Strategy, American Economic Review: Insights

	Service:
	MIT Labor Lunch co-organizer	2018-2019
	MIT Application Assistance and Mentorship Program mentor	2020-2022
AWARDS AND GRANTS	MIT Undergraduate Economics Association TA of the Year Washington Center for Equitable Growth Doctoral Grant (with Samuel Young) NSF Graduate Research Fellowship Urban Institute Finance & Society Project Award (with John Beshears, James Choi, David Laibson, and Brigitte Madrian) Phi Beta Kappa Lock and Chain Honorary Burton M. Wheeler Book Award
OTHER EMPLOYMENT	National Bureau of Economic Research Research assistant for Beshears, Choi, Laibson, and Madrian Federal Reserve Bank of St. Louis Intern, Supervisory Policy and Risk Analysis Anheuser-Busch Inbev Intern, Sales Forecasting and Price Analysis	2014 - 2016 2013 - 2013 2012 - 2013
PERSONAL INFORMATION	Citizenship: United States (naturalized) Languages: Chinese (fluent)

(Updated: July 2022)